Who approves solar & wind energy projects?

WASHINGTON (AP) -- All solar and wind energy projects on federal lands and waters must be personally approved by Interior Secretary Doug Burgum under a new order that authorizes him to conduct "elevated review" of activities ranging from leases to rights of way, construction and operational plans, grants and biological opinions.

Why is the Interior Department requiring wind & solar projects to be reviewed?

The Interior Department is now requiring dozens of formerly routine consultations and approvals for wind and solar projects to undergo new layers of political review by the interior secretary's office,a policy that is causing significant permitting delays.
